A variable is a symbol, usually a letter, that represents one or more numbers.

An algebraic expression is a mathematical phrase that can include numbers, variables, and operation symbols.

An equation is a mathematical sentence that uses an equal sign.

An equation that contains one or more variables is an open sentence.